THE DISCUSSION BETWEEN DR. SHAW AND MR. SMITH IN E. CITY.

Last week we briefly noticed the discussion in this place between Dr. Shaw, and his 'Opposition' competitor, Mr. Smith, but promised to review the speeches in this issue of our paper. We shall endeavor to perform the task in as few words as possible, aiming to meet out exact justice to both gentlemen. We have nothing to modify, or take back in what we said last week, but would reiterate every word and then add a few more to strengthen them, were it necessary. We again say, however, that a more complete victory was never gained by any man than was gained by Dr. Shaw over Mr. Smith on Monday.

Mr. Smith opened the discussion by informing the audience that he was the candidate of the Whig party, who had commissioned him to go forth and proclaim their principles, will the reader note the fact that Mr. Smith termed the Convention what nominated him, the Wm. convention, whilst the Convention adopted for itself the sobriquet of 'Opposition.' Without obeying the mandates of the body that commissioned him, he branched off into an attack upon the administration, condemned it for what he termed its gigantic Pacific Railroad project, the thirty million bill, and contrasted Dr. Shaw's position upon these measures with that of Mr. Buchanan. Mr. Smith next objected to Dr. Shaw's vote against the miserable distribution scheme, known as the Agricultural College bill, and labored hard for a little capital with the farming interest. This was the only vote during the whole Congressional career of Dr. Shaw that Mr. Smith could find, to object to, and to the intelligent mind it must prove the strongest recommendation for his reelection. Every one knows well that had this course been open to fault finding, the Opposition candidate for Congress would have handled it without mercy or feeling. The rotten corruption and extravagance of the administration was the next point upon which Mr. Smith expatiated, and as this is about the only stock in trade which the bankrupt faction has to work upon, we really expected to hear at least a plausible case made out, and an argument worthy the reputation which Mr. Smith has as a lawyer; but in this we were egregiously disappointed, and we not more so than his adherents, if the faces of those present were criterions by which to judge of their feelings. On this subject Mr. Smith stated that his competitor had called upon him to specify, itemize, give instances of corruption and extravagance, and he should have them to his 'heart's content.' We prepared ourselves for something astounding, overwhelming, something that was to send us all to the realms of oblivion, where never more we should be heard of.

The developments were made, and those monstrous cases of extravagance and corruption were brought to light. Mr. Smith did, yes he did! tell us of the extravagant appropriations for public buildings, the coal contracts, and the Patterson letter. These, if we remember rightly, proved the sum total of his specifications, and his comments upon these were dull, prosy, and we believe to his friends, uninteresting. He next touched upon State indebtedness and taxation, interrogated Dr. Shaw upon two points, viz. would he, Dr. Shaw, vote for S. A. Douglas, should that gentleman be the nominee of the Charleston Convention, and did he vote for the amendment to the compensation bill? made a grand flourish about his prospects of election, appealed feebly for support, and set down before his hour had expired.

Dr. Shaw then took the stand, and first noticing the declaration of his opponent that the Convention had sent him forth commissioned to declare its principles, stated that he had listened in vain for an enunciation of those principles, but that Mr. Smith had not yet 'condemned to fulfill his mission; he had closed his speech without even an allusion to the subject. Dr. Shaw could not see how Mr. Smith could object to him, when he had placed himself by his side. He Mr. Smith, had told of the disagreements between Dr. Shaw and the administration and had invariably coincided with him and opposed the administration. He next took up the distribution humbug and riddled it through and through. As the principal part of Mr. Smith's speech was devoted to the expenditures of the government, Dr. Shaw gave that subject his special attention, and demolished every position assumed by his antagonist as he came to them. He proved by the record that the appropriations for public buildings alluded to by Mr. Smith, was principally the work of Mr. Smith's friends, and by a reference to the Report of the Investigating Committee, clearly refuted the charge of corruption as charged by Mr. Smith, in relation to the coal contract. Upon this subject he left the gentleman not a place to stand on, and fully repelled the assaults of his adversary. He then carried the war into Africa, and gave the model administration of Mr. Fillmore, endorsed by Mr. Smith, a dressing that did not set well upon the stomach of the Opposition gentleman. Having carefully examined every point urged by his competitor, Dr. Shaw closed his able effort by answering the queries of Mr. Smith boldly and plainly, and asking him if he endorsed the Ostend Manifesto, and did he sanction the proposition for a fusion of the Southern Opposition with the Northern Black Republicans for the support of Bates or Bell for the presidency. He took his seat amidst the plaudits of the Democracy, and the discomfiture of his enemies, and none more than Mr. Smith.

The Opposition candidate rejoined, but his reply like his opening, was weak, pointless, and inept. He attempted to answer the question of Dr. Shaw in relation to the Ostend Manifesto, but it was evident it was a delicate subject with him. If it was so and so, as it was assumed it was, then he opposed it. He would never sanction any dishonorable acquisition of Cuba, not he. The Ostend Manifesto, contemplated no such thing, and the answer he gave was an evasion of the question. The second query, he did not answer. Again he boasted of the prospects of an election, and closed a second time without having made use of the time which belonged to him by agreement. Mr. Smith is an able lawyer, but he is vastly inferior to Dr. Shaw on the stump; his speeches throughout were labored and unsatisfactory, and we believe felt them to be so; he had a bad cause and it was badly supported.

Dr. Shaw replied for half hour in a strain of eloquence and strong reasoning that delighted his friends, and struck terror to his opponents. His first and his rejoinder were masterly efforts, and worthy the man and the cause he advocated. We say again, we are more than satisfied.

LETTER FROM MR. RAYNER.

It is known to most of our readers that the individual whose name stands at the head of this article, delivered himself of a speech at the Winton convention, characterized by improprieties and indecencies that has forced his friends to the trouble of explaining and apologizing for.

We have been in possession of a well authenticated version of what was there said by Mr. Rayner, but we have declined using it, knowing well that the strength of public opinion would coerce him to a statement. We now have it in the shape of a letter over his own signature, and though not agreeing exactly with our informant—who, by the way, is as much entitled to credit as Mr. Rayner or anybody else—does not relieve him of the censure first cast upon him. Mr. Rayner says:—

"That the severe remarks which I used were not applied to the Democratic party in the aggregate—but to those who have been persistently slandering and vilifying me, charging me with abolitionism, &c. You are also correct in your statement in regard to the connection in which the subject of 'hickory-sticks' was introduced—that it was in reply to a suggestion from some one, and as defensive against assaults or attempts to browbeat from the other side.

You are however, mistaken in one instance. Your recollection is, that I used the epithet 'd—n sons o' bitches.' In this you are mistaken. I did not use the word 'd—n.' I did, when speaking of those who had so deeply injured me, who had pursued and branded me with so much ferocity, &c. &c., in the excitement of the moment, use the term 'sons o' bitches,' but it was without the 'd—n.' If you will consult the recollection of those who were present, I am sure they will sustain my account of it.

The epithet, as I did use it however, was in very bad taste. I regretted it, as soon as it had escaped my lips. The generous must pardon it, to the temporary excitement growing out of a reference to my own personal wrongs."

It will be seen that Mr. Rayner endeavors to shift the responsibility for the recommendation of the use of hickory sticks in the present canvass to the shoulders of "some one" in the convention, and as "defensive" weapons were they to be used. What was the language in the speech of Mr. Rayner that drew forth the suggestion of "some one"? An allusion to fighting must have been made by him, or the advice from "some one" to use hickory sticks would have been foolish and out of place. Did not Mr. Rayner say "that the man that entered this canvass entered it with his life in his hand, and that if his friend Smith was opposed to the odds duello that he would advise"—? Was he not at this point interrupted by the suggestion of "some one" that "let him take a hickory stick with him." Such was the account we have had of it, and to us it seems to be a proper version. If it is wrong, we are ready to correct it.

Mr. Rayner admits that he adopted the suggestion of "some one," for he says that his remarks were "in reply to a suggestion from some one else" and as defensive against assaults or attempts to browbeat from the other side. Here is a clear admission that hickory sticks were recommended, but as "defensive" weapons. Now, we ask, where was the necessity for any such advice? Why was it requisite to "suggest" the use of "hickory sticks" as "defensive" weapons in the canvass? Has the Democratic party ever sought to control the elections by brute force? have Democrats ever sought to browbeat or intimidate the Opposition? Have they ever manifested a disposition to assault any save in a legitimate way? Are they not as peaceable and gentlemanly as Mr. Rayner or any of his friends? Then we ask where is the necessity for any suggestion for the use of "hickory sticks." No such necessity existed, and Mr. Rayner was well aware of it. It was an appeal to the passions, and one calculated to produce serious consequences, and instead of Mr. Rayner chiming in with the "suggestion" of "some one else" had he been actuated by right feelings himself, he would have scorned and repudiated the dangerous advice. This he did not do, but adopted it, and by his passion and influence, gave it a force which it would not otherwise have possessed. We therefore hold him responsible for the hickory stick recommendation. There was, and is, no danger of "assaults" from any democrat, and when Mr. Rayner assumes any such position, we say he cannot maintain it.

Mr. Rayner pleads guilty to the charge of having applied the epithet of "sons of bitches" to a portion of the Democratic party, but says it was to those who had been "slandering and vilifying" him; he confesses it "was in bad taste," and that he "regretted it soon as it had escaped his lips." Why did he not immediately apologize for the use of such language before an assemblage of respectable gentlemen? Why did he not, in regret for its use come so soon, retract the offensive and indecent expression upon the spot? Why wait until it was forced from him by the injury which his party was receiving from it?

Mr. Rayner, by his coarse abuse and persistent denunciations of the Democratic party, has rendered himself an object of peculiar aversion to every member of that party; his political course has been handled severely, but not more so than he deserved. Upon his return from Philadelphia in 1856 he received the just censure of friend and foe, and the Philadelphia News, a Fillmore paper, denounced him for his course. He has no cause for complaint, and when he undertakes to designate as sons of bitches any portion of the Democratic party, he is but giving additional evidence of the vindictiveness of his nature. Yet that convention did not, if we learn rightly, manifest any disapprobation at so gross a violation of decency by their dignified president. The epithet should have called the blush of shame to the cheek of all who heard it; under any circumstances it would have been inexcusable in a man occupying the position of Mr. Rayner, but when uttered before a body claiming all the decency, honesty, and respectability, we leave the condemnation which it merits to be pronounced by the voters of the district. There has been no treatment meted out to Mr. Rayner to justify the abuse which he has heaped upon the Democratic party or any portion of it; and if he has been handled with gloves off he has nobody to blame but himself.

We have something more to say about this matter in the future.

EVERETT'S VARIETIES
Will be in E. City on Wednesday, July 14th, and will remain for two or three days. The Varieties are exhibited under a capacious pavilion capable of accommodating 800 people, all comfortably seated. The entertainment of Everett is spoken of by the press generally as well worth seeing, being free from any objection which either moralist or religiousist might urge, and consists of Magic, Magic, Comic Eccentricities, Fun, Farce, Frolic, and Foibles. Everett will commence the entertainment with a series of diversified magical illusions and metamorphosis, illustrating the science of NATURAL MAGIC. He will open his Cabinet of Cabalistic Phenomena, introducing new and astounding experiments, together with others already established as beautiful and unrivaled. Doors open at 8 o'clock, P. M.

THE "OPPOSITION" CANDIDATE holds Dr. Shaw responsible for Mr. Buchanan's Pacific Railroad views, though Dr. Shaw does not approve of them. Mr. Smith is also opposed to the Pacific Railroad, but will support Mr. Crittenden for the presidency, who is a stronger Pacific Railroad man than Mr. Buchanan. What extremists men are sometimes driven!

THE MURFREESBORO CITIZEN.
This paper, under the auspices of its able editor, C. H. Foster, Esq., has been greatly enlarged and otherwise improved. We are glad to witness this evidence of prosperity in our valuable and industrious contemporary. It will do good service in the present campaign.

THE WAVERLY NOVELS.

The ASSOCIATED ANTIQUARY and OLD MORTALITY. Messrs. T. B. Peterson & Brothers have sent us the above volumes of their cheap publication of Sir Walter Scott's works. "The works of an author like Scott cannot be too extensively diffused. No one can rise from a perusal of his writings without having been instructed as well as amused. The cause of religion, virtue, and morality finds an advocate on every page. It has been well observed by an able and eloquent American critic, that 'If ever a writer deserved universal citizenship, it was Sir Walter Scott. He was the Poet of Nature, the delineator of his species in every climate and on every soil; so that wherever his works were known, there was he to be regarded as a native and a denizen.'

The price of these books is so low that they are placed within the reach of every one. The complete set may be obtained for $5.00, single copy 25cts. Address T. B. Peterson and Brother, 306 Chestnut St. Philadelphia.

DECENTLY CAUGHT.

In the discussion on Monday, Dr. Shaw asked Mr. Smith if he endorsed the Ostend Manifesto, which Mr. Smith answered by assuming that the Manifesto looked to be a dishonorable acquisition of Cuba, and in that case was opposed to it. Dr. Shaw then read the extract which his opponent thought was from the Manifesto in question, and asked Mr. Smith if he endorsed that. 'That was not what I read,' replied Mr. Smith; 'you can say yes or no,' returned Dr. Shaw, but it was no use. Mr. Smith would not answer. 'The gentleman need not be afraid,' continued Dr. Shaw, 'I was only reading an extract from the speech of Mr. Clay.'

The applause that followed may well be imagined.

Mr. Smith when asked by Dr. Shaw if he sanctioned the proposed fusion of the entire "opposition" upon Bates or Bell refused to answer. Why was this? Is he opposed to the policy of his party in this matter? Is he unwilling to sanction a fusion of know-nothings and black republicans, or is he afraid to stand in antagonism to those who nominated him? 'The union of all the elements of the opposition' is a proposition boldly avowed by his party friends in the South. Mr. Smith, when asked how he stands in relation to the matter, is mum. Once more we ask, why is he mum?

We have received a letter from a friend, informing us that for the last two issues, the Pioneer has been delayed in coming to hand. The fault was in our office, but was wholly unavoidable. Sickmess had taken off our force, and we were unable to procure such as we desired. We are making arrangements that will in future remedy the difficulty. Bear with us, friends, for a while, and all shall be right.

Our friend will remember having seen a notice in our paper of the 14th, in which we made an apology for the delay in issuing the Pioneer.

THE BIG "Z" COMPANY.

Fun ahead! The fantastics will be out in full force on the 4th. See the notice of their Chief in to-day's paper. We advise all who expect to be in town on the 4th, to have themselves hooped, or the results may be most disastrous. We hear that the parade of the respectable Z company will be worthy of their ancient gallantry and renown, and that they intend to "play such fantastic tricks" as will make the corporation of every fat man in the town shake like a bag of jelly.

ARTHUR'S LADIES' HOME MAGAZINE.
The July number is before us. A glance at its contents is sufficient to show that it is among the very best periodicals of the day. Every article which it contains carries with it a useful and instructive lesson.

PUBLIC MEETING.

At a meeting of the citizens of Elizabeth City, held at the Court House on Wednesday evening, June 23d, 1859, Dr. J. B. Godwin was called to the chair, and Chas. G. Elliott appointed Secretary.

The chairman explained the object of the meeting to be, to make arrangements for the celebration of the fourth of July next.

On motion, the chairman appointed a Committee of five, consisting of F. M. Charles, J. L. Ball, J. M. Pool, M. V. B. Gilbert, and C. W. Kellinger, to select an Orator, a reader of the National Declaration of Independence, a reader of the Mecklenburg Resolves, and a Chaplain for the day; and to make all other necessary arrangements for the proper celebration of the approaching Anniversary.

On motion, the chairman was added to the committee. The committee have selected for—

Orator, Richard B. Creecy, Esq.
Reader of the National Declaration, T. W. Costen, Esq.

Reader of the Mecklenburg Declaration, Mr. S. M. Butler.

Chaplain, Rev. Franck Stanly.
Moved and carried that the proceedings of this meeting be published in the papers of the Town, and that the thanks of the meeting be tendered to the Chairman and Secretary.

On motion, the meeting adjourned.

J. B. GODWIN, Ch'n.

CHAS. G. ELLIOTT, Sec'y.

[We have been requested to state that the programme for the celebration of the Fourth will be published in the next issue of the 'State']

LATEST NEWS.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMER KANGAROO OFF SANDY HOOK.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT.

REPORTED REVERSES TO THE ALLIES.

The King of Sardinia said to have been Defeated.

SANDY HOOK, June 21.—The steamer Kangaroo has passed here on her way to New York, and has been boarded by the news boat of the Associated Press. Her dates are to the 9th instant.

The steamer Vigo had arrived out The Bank of England had reduced its rates to 3 per cent.

The Austrians evacuated Milan on the 5th, the municipal functionaries retiring to Verona. It was supposed they would continue to discharge their functions in Mantua.

The Emperor Napoleon and the King of Sardinia entered Milan together, and were enthusiastically received by the inhabitants.

The Austrians had evacuated Pavia. The latest news was that a partial decline in Consols had occurred at London, occasioned by the news that the Allies had received a severe check in Italy.

The defeat of the King of Sardinia was even reported at London, and in the absence of news from Paris, caused considerable agitation at the London Stock Exchange.

The Paris Bourse had declined 1 per cent.

Bullion at the Bank of England had increased £160,000 sterling.

MARKETS.

LIVERPOOL, June 9th.—Cotton is quiet, and previous quotations are barely maintained. Sales to-day estimated at 6,000 bales.

Breadstuffs are dull.

Consols 93 1/4 93 3/4.

SECOND DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, June 31.—The Kangaroo has arrived. She brings London dates to noon of the 9th, received via Cork where she called on Thursday.

DETAILS OF THE BATTLE OF MAGNETA.

Further details of the battle of Magneta had been received at London by telegraph.

A Vienna despatch says among the wounded in the battle of Magneta are Baron Resichach, three generals, three staff officers, and two staff officers are missing, and one major killed.

A Turin despatch, dated June 7th, says:—There were one hundred and twenty thousand Austrians in the battle, of whom twenty thousand were placed hors du combat and seven thousand were made prisoners.

The French lost only five thousand in killed and wounded. Among the killed were generals Espinasse and Clere.

The Government of the King of Sardinia was already established at Como and Sondrio.

The municipality of Milan in their address to Victor Emmanuel, delivered in the presence of Emperor Napoleon, say:

ADDRESS OF THE MUNICIPALITY OF MILAN TO THE KING OF SARINIA.

The Municipality of Milan are proud in being able to use its precious privilege of being the interpreter of their fellow-citizens at this grave crisis. They are willing to renew the pact of 1848, and to proclaim again, before the Italian nation, the great fact which has required eleven years for a full development in the intelligence and hearts of the people. Our cry is "The King and Italy forever."

A FRENCH SHIP CAPTURED BY AN AUSTRIAN STEAMER.

A dispatch from Trieste says an Austrian war steamer had captured the French Raoul, from Cuba, bound to Trieste.

LATER—DEATH OF CARROBERT REPORTED.—Latter accounts say it was reported that Marshal Canrobert had died of his wounds received at Magneta.

General De Angeli, commander of the Imperial Guard had been made Marshal of France.

Napoleon is said to have been in the midst of the Imperial Guard during the stand which they made for two hours against the Austrians, who, it appears, were aware of the fact.

The real loss of the Austrians is estimated at 13,000 to 14,000 men.

A Turin despatch of June 7th says the first private letter from the battle field of Magneta has arrived. The Imperial and Sardinian Guards were against the Austrian masses.

DROWNED.—We learn from a private letter, that William Howe, a seaman on board the Schooner "Charles Fox" commanded by Capt. Chase, was drowned, while swimming, near the wharf in Hertford, Perquimans County, on Sunday last. The unfortunate man is represented as having been of moral character and industrious habits—had a wife and child in Saturcat, L. I., and is supposed to have parents living in England. He was aged about 22 or 23 years. The Coroner's inquest returned a verdict of "accidental drowning."—E. City State.

HON. EDWARD STANLY.—"It will be gratifying," says the Washington Dispatch, "to the numerous friends of Mr. Stanly to know that he is expected to make a visit to the Eastern States in a short time. His marriage to an estimable lady in California, a native of Virginia, we announce to-day. Business will demand his time in New York and also in attending the Episcopal Convention in Richmond, Va., as a delegate; but we hope he will find ample time to visit his old State, and mingle once more with his many friends. Many of his warm personal friends are members of the different political parties who will be none the less glad to see him, because they may differ with him."

REPRINT OF THE BRITISH REVIEWS.
AND BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE.
L. Scott & Co., New-York, continue to publish the following leading British Periodicals, viz :
The London Quarterly, (Conservative);
The Edinburgh Review, (Whig);
The North British Review, (Free Church);
The Westminster Review, (Liberal);
Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine, (Tory).
These Periodicals all represent the three great political parties of Great Britain—Whig, Tory, and Radical—but politics forms only one feature of their character. As Organs of the most profound writers in Science, Literature, Morality, Religion, they stand as they ever have stood, unrivalled in the world of letters, being considered indispensable to the scholar and the professional man, while to the intelligent reader of every class, they furnish a more correct and satisfactory recount of the current literature of the day, throughout the world, than can be possibly obtained from any other source.

EARLY COPIES.
The receipt of ADVANCE SHEETS from the British Publishers gives additional value to these Reprints, inasmuch as they can now be placed in the hands of subscribers about as soon as the original editions.

NOTICE PARTICULAR.
To my friends and the public in general I give the following offers, that they may all live!
I'll buy all they bring of the list down lower
And pay them in goods, right out of my store;
I'll buy all the eggs your poultry can lay,
Or as many as you please, just as you say;
I'll buy all the bones of old cattle and hogs,
And to finish the bargain, I'll take the hogs;
I'll take all the bones you can find in the woods,
Such as cow, horse and sheep if you'll take pay in goods.
I'll take all the Hides of anything dead,
Mule hides and horse hides, black, white or red;
All these hides, if green, I also will buy,
And horse main and tail, if they be well dry.
I'll take all the matted hair of men and women,
So dry it and bring it as soon as you please,
Bring all the old fine Bones of horse, cow or sheep.
And take pay in goods, which I sell very cheap.
I'll buy all the Hens you can bring me to sell.
And all the old Terns, that's doing very well.
I want all the rags you can spare, let me see,
Woolen, Linen or cotton will answer for me,
For flannels and broadcloths that's gnawed by the mice.
I'll trade you for goods at a very low price.
I'll buy all old iron, and take it in chains,
Such as plows, hoes and chains, kettles and Pots.
Attend to this notice, and to cheer your fond hopes,
I'll wind up my song and buy your old Ropes.

VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE.
THE subscriber offers for sale his FARM situated in Craven County, on lower Broad and Orchard Creeks, near New River, seven miles from the town of Jackson, containing 2500 acres, more or less, several hundred of which are prime Swamp Land, about 200 acres cleared, the remainder in woods, which is excellent timber, suitable for building or ship purposes.
There are about 100 acres ditched, drained, under-bushed and the cord wood cut;
a small amount of labor would prepare it for cultivation. There are also two crops of Turpentine Boxes on it.
The Land is well adapted to Cotton, Corn, Wheat, Potatoes, &c., and is highly susceptible of improvement. The facilities for shipping are rarely equalled.
The improvements consist of a fine large Dwelling, Kitchen, Smoke-House, Gin-House, Barns, Stables, and Negro Houses sufficient to accommodate Fifty Negroes, together with all other necessary out-buildings, in good order. The Garden and Orchard abound in a great variety of the choicest Fruits, viz: Grapes, Figs, Raspberries, Strawberries, Cherries, Apples, Pears and Peaches. Oysters and Fish may be taken in abundance from the creek at the back of the garden, and Wild Fowl, in great variety, abound in the vicinity.
There is also a good mill site, with dam already constructed on the place. There is a good well of water in the yard.
The premises have the reputation of being healthy and the situation is desirable, and any object in desiring to sell is the fact that I intend to quit farming.
Persons wishing to buy can apply to me on the premises, or to J. Gooding, Jr., at Newbern.

FOR SALE OR RENT.
The undersigned, being desirous to remove to some other locality, and having closed his business for that purpose, offers his Store house, 34
by 18 feet, and warehouse attached, at Nag's
Head, for sale or rent on very reasonable terms.
The stand for Mercantile business is well known to all the vicinity, and there is no place like it for fine and fancy goods—being the only one at the place fitted up for that business.
The house is ciled, plastered over head, &c.
At a small expense it could be made an excellent Summer house for a family desiring to visit the place during the Summer. There is a wharf belonging to it, 100 yards long, well adapted for landing of small boats. Apply to

HAWES' HISTORY OF NORTH CAROLINA

THE 2d volume is now published. It embraces the period of the Proprietary Government, from 1663 to 1733.

It forms a handsome 8vo. volume of 591 pages; but the price of this volume is less, say $2 75 in cloth binding; $3 in Library shape; and $3 25 in half calf. It will be sold only for Cash.

Owing to the difficulty of securing Agents in many parts of the State, we will forward it by mail or otherwise free of postage, on receipt of the price, or both volumes for $4 cloth, $4 50 sheep, or $5 half calf.

A liberal discount made to Agents, or others, who buy to sell again.

THE CITY OF THE GREAT KING: OR JERUSALEM AS IT WAS, AS IT IS, & AS IT IS TO BE. BY DR. J. T. BARCLAY, Late Missionary to Jerusalem. With a Steel Portrait of the Author by Sartain. Also Chromo-lithographic Illustrations in ten oil colors, representing the entire Circuit of the City and Environs, explanatory Maps, &c., by Rosenthal. Steel Engravings by Sartain. J. C. Butter, Dick and Earle. Finest Wood Engravings by Loudon and H. H. Byram.

The Engravings will be executed in the highest style of art, from Photographs and original designs illustrating the various phases of the City.

ANCIENT, MEDIEVAL, MODERN AND MILLENNIAL.

Also, Restoration of the Temple and City as invested by Titus.—Notice of its Jewish, Christian, and Heathen Antiquities.—Its Present Political and Moral Condition.—Future Prospects, &c.

This work is the result of investigations made during three and a half years' residence in the Holy City, with facilities for prosecuting researches never heretofore enjoyed. It was undertaken with special reference to the elucidation of the Holy Scriptures, the Talmud, the Works of Josephus, the Crusaders, and Pilgrim Chronicles. The many valuable discoveries made in the Temple Enclosure, and other sacred localities, to which Dr. Barclay was admitted by special permission, with permission to explore those hallowed spots, so jealously guarded for many centuries, and now for the first time presented to the Christian public, will introduce a new era in Sacred Topography.

BOOKS & STATIONERY.

BOOK AND STATIONERY STORE. WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. W. P. GRIFFITH, having dissolved his connection with the firm of Vickery & Griffith, would respectfully inform the citizens of Elizabeth City and of the surrounding country, that he has opened at the store formerly occupied by the late W. P. C. Barclay. The largest and best stock of Books and Stationery ever offered for sale in the City of Norfolk.

Believing that the wants and tastes of the people required one establishment similar to those found in the large Northern cities, where actual and general assortment of Books can be obtained, the subscriber has been induced, during a recent visit to Philadelphia, New York and Boston, to purchase from the principal publishers, and at the great "Trade Salts," a superior stock of School, Classical, Law, Medical, Theological, Religious and Miscellaneous BOOKS.

Which will, upon examination, compare with any to be found in the Southern country.

My Stock of Foreign and American STATIONERY.

Is very large and complete, it has been selected with great care, and embraces every article required for the School, Office, and of Books can be obtained, the subscriber has been induced, during a recent visit to Philadelphia, New York and Boston, to purchase from the principal publishers, and at the great "Trade Salts," a superior stock of

MY WHOLE STOCK IS ENTIRELY NEW—

and has been bought upon the very best terms and a large portion for cash, which gives me a decided advantage over all other houses in the city, and will enable me to sell my goods at prices below former prices.

Booksellers in this and adjacent Towns and Country Merchants, will find it greatly to their advantage to examine my stock before going North.

Colleges, Schools and Teachers, will be supplied at Northern prices.

By special arrangements with the following houses, I shall receive their new Books as they are issued from the Press, and will supply any or all of their orders at the lowest prices.
